Luke 16:1-13

Jesus said to his disciples:
 ‘There was a rich man and he had a steward denounced to him for being wasteful with his property. He called for the man and said, “What is this I hear about you? Draw me up an account of your stewardship because you are not to be my steward any longer.” Then the steward said to himself, “Now that my master is taking the stewardship from me, what am I to do? Dig? I am not strong enough. Go begging? I should be too ashamed. Ah, I know what I will do to make sure that when I am dismissed from office there will be some to welcome me into their homes.” Then he called his master’s debtors one by one. To the first he said, “How much do you owe my master?” “One hundred measures of oil” was the reply. The steward said, “Here, take your bond; sit down straight away and write fifty.” To another he said, “And you, sir, how much do you owe?” “One hundred measures of wheat” was the reply. The steward said, “Here, take your bond and write eighty.” The master praised the dishonest steward for his astuteness. For the children of this world are more astute in dealing with their own kind than are the children of light. And so I tell you this: use money, tainted as it is, to win you friends, and thus make sure that when it fails you, they will welcome you into the tents of eternity. The man who can be trusted in little things can be trusted in great; the man who is dishonest in little things will be dishonest in great. If then you cannot be trusted with money, that tainted thing, who will trust you with genuine riches? And if you cannot be trusted with what is not yours, who will give you what is your very own? No servant can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love the second, or treat the first with respect and the second with scorn. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.’

Adult Faith, Fellowship and Formation in the Diocese of Cloyne:

Koinonia is a two-year programme for adults who wish to explore questions of faith and pastoral ministry. Participants will gain a deeper understanding of theology, spirituality and the liturgy. The course will help Catholics assume new roles in lay ministry. If you are interested in joining this course, please contact Fr. Winkle P.P., or the parish office over the coming days.

The Season of Creation

“O Creator God, in this month of creation time, teach us to see your footprints in the beauty of creation. Help us to listen to the voice of creation, inspire us to respect the rights of all people, and all living species to share in your gifts today and to be always mindful of those who come after us.

Pray for those who have died. May they rest in peace.

We pray Joe Motherway (Ryan and Ahern Place) who died recently: for those whose anniversaries occur at this time: Michael Sheehan, Delia McDonagh, David Cull, Kitty Cull, Jim Byrne, Courtney Byrne and Sean McCarthy.

Sing to the Lord

“Of primary importance are the acclamations: the acclamation before the Gospel and the acclamations proper to the Eucharistic Prayer (Sanctus [Holy, Holy, Holy], Mystery of Faith and Great Amen). These are to be sung by the entire assembly during every Sunday Mass.

Acclamations, by their nature, are brief, rhythmic and spontaneous. Therefore, it is important for the assembly to know these well, so that they can be sung from memory. (22)”

Gather us in by Mary Haugen

Here in this place new light is streaming
Now is the darkness vanished away
See in this space our fears and our dreamings
Brought here to you in the light of this day.

Gather us in, the lost and forsaken
Gather us in, the blind and the lame
Call to us now and we shall awaken
We shall arise at the sound of our name

We are the young, our lives are a mystery
We are the old who yearn for your face
We have been sung throughout all of history
Called to be light to the whole human race

Gather us in, the rich and the haughty
Gather us in, the proud and the strong
Give us a heart so meek and so lowly
Give us the courage to enter the song

Here we will take the wine and the water
Here we will take the bread of new birth
Here you shall call your sons and your daughters
Call us anew to be salt for the earth
